

Program
Joint Workshop

Hiroshima Institute for Health Economic Research, Hiroshima University and

Faculty of Economics, Chulalongkorn University

Dec 5, 2018

Venue: Large Meeting Room (on the 3rd Floor), Graduate School of Social Sciences

Hiroshima University

Map: goo.gl/QrThd6

Time	Program
10:00-10:10	Opening Remark by the Director of HiHER, Yoshihiko Kadoya, Hiroshima University
10:05-10:15	Remarks by Prof. Jin Narumoto, Kyoto Prefectural University of Medicine
10:15-11:00	Speaker: Yoshihiko Kaodya (HiHER)	Does financial literacy explain investment in risky assets in Japan?
11:00-11:45	Speaker: Nopphol Witvorapong (CU)	Do Expectations for Old-Age Filial Responsibility and Sate Support Crowd Out Retirement Saving? Insights from the Working-Age Population in Thailand
11:45-13:05	Lunch Break
13:05-13:45	Speaker: Hikaru Oba (KPM)	Cognitive decline reduces household spending among older people
13:45-14:30	Speaker: Touchanun Komonpaisarn (CU)	Social Cost of Alcohol Consumption in Thailand in 2011
14:30-14:45	Break
14:45-15:30	Speaker: Somtip Watanapongvanich (HiHER)	Financial literacy and gamble addiction
15:30-16:15	Speaker: Kanittha Tambunlertchai (CU)	The Impacts of Collective Conditionality Requirements for Rewards in a CPR Experiment
16:15-16:45	Discussion for potential research collaborations between HiHER and Chula
16:45-17:00	Closing Remark by Prof. Worawet Suwanrada, Dean of Faculty of Economic, Chulalongkorn University
17:30-	Dinner Reception (Contributors only) Venue: Saijo Hakuwa Hotel

Presentation + Discussion: 45 minutes